This is Tommy

Being prepared for emergencies can mean the difference between life and death. If you need convincing about that, you should talk to Tommy. He will tell you he believes he could have died in August 2015 if his Memorial High football team wasn't ready for his exertional heat illness.

Tommy showed up for preseason football practice just like he had the previous 3 years. But this time, he collapsed mid-way through the session. An emergency action plan was in place. It was activated for Tom. His athletic trainer, teammates and coaches knew what to do. He got exactly what he needed. He ended up with mild kidney damage instead of what might have been much worse. Tom learned how great it is to have people around to care for you.

Safe Sports is dedicated to keeping kids like Tommy as safe as possible.

"I just wanted to thank you for everything you've done for my shoulder. I'm glad I didn't throw this season because I could be in a worse situation. As much as I wanted to, you stopped me. Just letting you know that I am working hard to play volleyball again. Thanks!" JG - Student Athlete

Thank you, 2015 donors!!

You make it possible for young athletes to have the care they need.

These Foundations and individual donors understand that...

- Coaches with CPR and First Aid training,
- Robust emergency action plans,
- Concussion management protocols,
- Concussion testing, and
- Appropriate attention to pre-existing medical conditions

...don't suddenly become important when kids enter 9th grade. Middle school students need these things too!

This funding has made it possible for 8 middle schools to have all these issues addressed...and a 9th school is on the horizon!

Keeping kids safe is why you are a Safe Sports donor.
This year, you showed that kids of all ages matter!

iPad Balance Testing Added to Comprehensive Concussion Assessment Program

Thanks to great support from donors, including the Benson Family Foundation, Queen City Rotary, Granite City Electric and Manchester Kiwanis Club, Safe Sports kids now have access to high tech balance testing. Balance is recognized as one of several areas that are affected by concussion. The iPad-based C3 Logix program builds on the widely-used Balance Error Scoring System (BESS). But where the low-tech version has some weaknesses, the iPad's built-in accelerometer and gyroscope enhance its value. Contact amy@nhmi.net if your athlete needs a balance baseline!

Next Level Emergency Prep: Drop the Dummy Drills

Sudden Cardiac Arrest is the number 1 killer of young athletes.
Survival is reduced by 10% for every minute of delay in care.

Working together, Safe Sports donors, staff, coaches, athletes and school administrations are closing the gaps in our kids' safety net. How it works: CPR and AED training for coaches and athletes are offered all year. Then, before each season coaches create an emergency response squad including: AED retrieval team, CPR team, 911 team (calling, running and waiting to bring help to the stricken athlete) and an AED application team. Team members are coaches or athletes or any combination. Unannounced drills incorporated into the program this year have brought that preparation to the next level. Coaches and athletes alike are saying basically the same things, "This drill was great. We worked out some kinks and now I know we're ready if something happens."

Thank you, 2015 donors!!

Every gift supports efforts to improve knowledge and sports safety.
